HOUNDS ON PARADE

In proportion to the profusion with which hounds and hunting scenes are spread about this country in the form of Christmas cards, calendars, wallpaper, china and the like, the number of occasions on which packs of hounds are actually seen by the public is exceedingly small. This is unfortunate. For in pictures foxhunting assumes an unreal quality which makes it subject to all sorts of misconceptions and misrepresentations. If only people could see the men, the women, the horses and the hounds who take part, they would come to realize that riding to hounds is fundamentally the same sport as running rabbits with a couple of beagles.

The importance of enlisting public interest was very forcibly brought home in Britain a few years ago when foxhunting escaped being legislated out of existence by the narrowest of margins. Since then matters have been placed on a better footing. The farmers who were largely responsible for saving the sport have assumed a much larger role in its administration. Foot, bicycle and car followers, once considered an unmitigated nuisance, are now not only encouraged, but have been organized into supporters clubs—one of them including over 6,000 members—whose modest dues add up to an important factor in hunt financing. At England's recent international horse show at White City, where our U. S. Equestrian Team carried off major jumping honors, five different packs of hounds were exhibited in the ring on five successive days.

Just because a given scheme works in Britain does not mean, obviously, that it is either adaptable or desirable in this country. Although our light horse population is considerably larger, the percentage of people interested in horses is considerably smaller. Nevertheless we can well profit by the example of our neighbors across the Atlantic, both by their mistakes and by their successes.

We should, for example, make sure that meets of hounds are announced in local newspapers as well as by fixture cards mailed to a limited list. We should make it clear to readers that the entire community is invited to attend these meets and to follow hounds thereafter by any available means of transportation, as long as they do not interfere with sport and hold themselves subject to the authority of the Master. We should encourage visits to the kennels and walking out with hounds at exercise.

The greater the number of puppies put out at walk in the countryside, the greater the local interest. And whenever there is an opportunity to parade hounds in a suitable ring or arena, either in connection with the hunt horse show or with some entirely unrelated event sponsored by local charities or service clubs, by all means do so. Getting the hunt horses up from grass and getting the staff turned out in heavy pink coats in the middle of a hot summer is an infernal nuisance, but it will pay off in many, many ways, even to the number of foxes found the following winter.

Foxhunting is just like any other enterprise. It needs public support. And it is worth going to considerable trouble to get it.

U. S. Jumping Team Sparkles In Europe

Dear Sir:

I feel certain that you and your readers will be as thrilled as we here are by the outstanding success scored by our Prix des Nations Team at the Royal International Horse show in White City, London, July 20 - 26.

It would be difficult, if not impossible to select an individual star from among the U.S.E.T. horses and riders, so well did the entire group perform. But certainly one of the highlights of the show was the victory scored by Hugh Wiley as he rode Master William to first place in the highly-coveted King George V Cup. Wiley was the only rider to go clean in a six-horse jumpoff. Second place in the event went to Italy's Piero D'Inzeo while Bill Steinkraus was fifth on First Boy. In speaking of Wiley's cup-winning effort, the horse show correspondent for the London Times said, "We shall be lucky if we see a round ridden with better judgment on the part of the rider or better performance on the part of the horse."

No less impressive was the performance of the U.S.E.T. riders in the Prince of Wales International Team Cup competition. Facing the teams of England, Ireland and Portugal, the U. S. group finished with a total of four faults as England was second with eight, Ireland finished third and Portugal fourth. Each team of four riders jumped the 14-fence course twice with the three best scores in each round making the final total. Bill Steinkraus, riding Ksar d'Esprit, and George Morris on Night Owl each scored two faultless rounds. Frank Chapot, riding Diamant, was clean

*Princequillo

From War Refugee To Leading Sire

Frank Talmadge Phelps

The Nazi and Fascist regimes that preceded and ultimately precipitated World War II brought to American shores a number of refugees whose contributions to United States cultural, technical and scientific life have been tremendous. For example, Albert Einstein, Enrico Fermi and Edward Teller, probably the three keenest scientific brains the world produced in the second quarter of the 20th century, all came to this country as refugees. In another field one might cite the late conductor Arturo Toscanini.

Quite a few Thoroughbreds who originally also crossed the Atlantic Ocean as refugees have likewise made good in the U.S. The best example have been *Princequillo, who has done so well here that he became the leading sire of 1957.

The Irish-bred son of Prince Rose - *Cosquilla, by Papyrus, got 62 winners of 146 races and $1,281,648 in first monies last year. Besides his first-money leadership, he ranked third in numbers of both winners and wins. That brought the total achievements by offspring of *Princequillo, who stands at A. B. Hancock, Jr.'s Claiborne Farm, Paris, Ky., to 811 victories and over $5,400,000 in 10 crops of racing age.

*Cosquilla

Those are pretty hefty accomplishments for a horse whose dam was reportedly smuggled, in foal, across the English Channel in a small boat in order to escape the invading Nazis. While the details of that yarn may be apocryphal, the facts are that *Cosquilla was removed from the European continent to Ireland to drop safely her foal by Prince Rose; and that later the mare and foal were sent to America.

This was a natural move on the part of their owner, Laudy L. Lawrence, the expatriate American who for years had conducted the bulk of his horse-breeding operations in France.

*Cosquilla had won the Prix de Chantilly, Fille de l'Air, Pauline, des Chennettes, Maurice de Waldner and Colombes herself at three, four and five. She was a full sister to the English stakes winners Short Hand and Petit Bleu, and a half sister to the high-class Haste Away. Before her overseas journey she had foaled the Prix de Consolation captor G.H.Q., by War Lord.

Prince Rose

Her mate on the eve of the cross-Channel jaunt, Prince Rose, was possibly the best horse ever to race regularly in Belgium. He lost his first three starts at two, then was beaten but once more in 17 further appearances up to the age of four. His 2,169,550 francs were accumulated chiefly through victories in the Grand International d'Ostende, Grand Prix du Printemps, d'Avril and de Groenendael, and two runnings of the Grand Prix d'Ostende in Belgium; and in the Prix du President de la Republique in France. His offspring included the champion French runners Prince Bio and Prince Chevalier. The former was a leading French sire and got the French Derby winner Sicambre, while Prince Chevalier sired the English Derby hero *Arctic Prince.

Prince Rose himself was killed when an artillery shell hit his stall during the American liberation of Normandy.

*Princequillo

Meanwhile, his imported son *Princequillo had gotten to the races in America. Like many war refugees, he had to start at the bottom of the ladder and work his way upward; in his case, the ladder was the scale of racing class. Anthony Pelleteri had bought the colt privately and so cheaply that he began his career in the ranks of $1,500.

He was second in his first two starts; then won two races in a row, at 5 1/2 and six furlongs. The latter event was a $2,500 claimer at Saratoga on Aug. 20, 1942.

When he next came out, it was as the property of Boone Hall Stable, which then represented the racing interests of Princess Djorjadze, although later it was listed as the joint property of Prince Dimitri Djorjadze and Horatio A. Luro. While the latter, who has made such a success with imported horses, especially from South America, evidently did not share in the Boone Hall ownership at the time *Princequillo joined the barn, Mr. Luro did advise the Prince and Princess on the colt's private purchase at a price probably not much above his last claiming tag.

For his new connections he took only one more race, a mile contest, in six further juvenile starts, although he lost another victory through disqualification. Finishing out of the money only once, he brought his two-year-old earnings to a modest total of $3,575.

At Three

As the distances lengthened the next year, however, he found himself under the training of Dave Englander. The colt first indicated his class by a third to Vincentive and *Famous Victory in the 1 1/4-mile Dwyer Stakes, followed by a show behind Chop Chop and Royal Nap in the Empire City Handicap as a new 1 3/16-mile record of 1:57 1/5 was set. Then *Princequillo ran Bolingbroke to a nose victory in the 1 1/4 mile Whitney Stakes. The Irish import proceeded to lick Bolingbroke and Shut Out in the 1 1/4 mile Saratoga Handicap, set a new 1 3/4 mile standard of 2:56 3/5 in out-finishing Bolingbroke and Dark Discovery in the Saratoga Cup, and topped Fairy Manhurst and Bolingbroke through the slop for the Jockey Club Gold Cup. These were among *Princequillo's seven victories in 15 efforts to net $68,990 at three.

The next season he took only two of eight appearances to collect $23,985. But those two decisions, both under top weight, came in the Questionnaire Handicap, in which he established a new 1 5/8 mile Empire City record of 2:43 at the expense of Lord Calvert; and in the 1 3/16 mile Merchants' and Citizens' over Ramillies and Wait a Bit. The Whitney Stakes again eluded the Boone Hall colt, however, as he lost by half a length to Devil Diver.

*Cloonroughan Wins Monmouth's Midsummer Hurdle Handicap

Al Cadeaux

Testimony to Neji's paramount ranking among this nation's present jumpers was evidenced by the record breaking race-handle (for a hurdle event at Monmouth Park) of $176,303 wagered last Thursday when the $22,000 Midsummer Hurdle Handicap closed out this seashore course's lesser obstacle program for 1958. The previous mark of $167,973 set in 1956 when Cain Hoy Stable's Flying Fury - a horse known for his record on the flat - captured the invitational "about" two miles event contested over 12 jumps.

Although backed to 1-2 favoritism, Neji, bred by Mrs. Marion duPont Scott and owned by Mrs. Ogden Phipps, failed in his attempt to concede 19 pounds to Mrs. Michael G. Walsh's *Cloonroughan who posted his first major victory and fourth in six starts over hurdles since arriving in the United States last January. Neji, who also was edged for the place award by F. Eugene Dixon Jr.'s My Last Try while giving 35 pounds to the runner-up, suffered his first loss since beginning a skein of four successive triumphs last year under imposts of 164, 168, 173 and 162. Neji scored in his last three starts in 1957 and in his only previous start this summer. For the time being, the 8-year-old gelding by *Hunters Moon IV from Accra by Annapolis missed out on the opportunity of adding the American weight carrying record (at a major course) to his money-winning championship.

Neji Carries 175 Pounds

"Figurarists" may have liked the chances of the 7-year-old *Cloonroughan, a winner in stakes on the flat, in England and Ireland, who, while in receipt of six pounds from Neji in their last encounter, was only a half length back of the 1955 and 1957 steeplechase horse champion. At that, *Cloonroughan, a son of Solar Slipper-Morning Wings by The Phoenix, swerved after clearing the last two hurdles and Neji held a straight and true course in wearing down his adversary.

The "classical" school of weight theorists may have believed Neji was assigned 175 by handicapper Chris Wood, Jr., because the distance of the Midsummer was a quarter of a mile longer than the Prelude Purse - the race in which Neji collared his opponent - and that Neji "figured" to improve upon his 1958 season bow. And had he not successfully carried 173 pounds in winning by seven lengths last Fall's *Temple Gwathmey?

MIELAISON (left) with jockey Bill Hartack aboard over the first jump in The Champions Purse, a mile and 3/4 event over hurdles at Monmouth, which he won by 4 1/2 lengths. It was Hartack's first mount in a jump race. Stablemate LUCKY TRINE is on the right with jockey Jimmy Hobales in the saddle. (Turfotos)

Weight A Factor

Undoubtedly, *Cloonroughan's pull in the weights was a factor in his smashing Midsummer score which rewarded Mrs. Walsh with the $15,000 first money. However, any estimate of Mrs. Walsh's import based solely on the weight factor would be an injustice to the performance turned in by *Cloonroughan.

With Thomas Walsh, a nephew of the owner and her husband, trainer Michael Walsh, on the Irish-bred *Cloonroughan broke slowly from his outside post position in the field of seven as Sanford Stud Farm's Dartmoor, Neji, with Paddy Smithwickup, and Mrs. G. H. Bostwick's Indian Truce forming the first flight in the run by the stands the first time. Dartmoor, handled by John Cotter, Jr., winning rider in this event the last two years with Flying Fury and Sanford Stud's Ideal View, held command until the fourth jump where *Cloon-roughan (the only foreign-bred in the field) attained supremacy. From there on, it was "catch-me-if-you-can" as Field rated his free-running horse on the lead. Dartmoor was doing his best to maintain his secondary position and Smithwick had Neji tucked along the rail in a contending position. As the far turn heading into the 12th fence loomed up with *Cloonroughan sprinting clear, Smithwick stepped Neji into high gear for the last three-furlong run. Neji responded, quickly passing Dartmoor. But it was evident at the head of the stretch that *Cloonroughan, fencing surely, was not to be caught.

Neji's Impost Tells

Neji's impost began to "tell" when My Last Try, guided by James G. Hobales, ranged into contention. The two brushed each other in getting over the next-to-last jump. In the final yards, after *Cloonroughan had safely tucked away his first handicap in the U. S., My Last Try skimmed under the wire a head in advance of Neji. Allison L. S. Stern's Greek Brother was fourth, followed by Dartmoor, C. Mahlon Kline's Ragtime Cowboy and Indian Truce.

*Cloonroughan paid $8.60 to win as second choice and completed the distance in 3.54 4/5 as compared to Flying Fury's course record of 3.53 3/5.

Coincidence or not, *Cloonroughan's victory was the first in two years saddled by trainer Walsh, who had schooled his import at their Southern Pines, N. C., farm. On the occasion of the Midsummer invitations, Mrs. Walsh asked Amory L. Haskell, President of Monmouth, "for a good luck kiss".

"That's what made our horse win," Mrs. Walsh beamed after accepting a trophy presented by Miss Elizabeth Fowler,

Steeplechasing at Saratoga

John E. Cooper

Mrs. Arthur White's Blen More blazed across the finish line on top in the $10,000 added Beverwyck Steeplechase Handicap here on Friday, August 1, followed by Dromond, Castle and *Narcissus 2nd, but except for a brief moment in the winners' circle while picture were taken, his honor was short lived. Albert Foot who rode Dromond claimed foul against Murt Hoey on Blen More, stating he had been interfered with coming to the final jump. It was a deceptive angle from which the Stewards had to judge, so a delay followed while they looked at the film. Then came the announcement that Blen More had been disqualified and placed second and Dromond moved into the winners position. Irrespective of the merits of the claim, the decision was popular with the crowd for Dromond had gone off a co-favorite with Independence at slightly more than 2 to 1.

Eight Start In Beverwyck

A field of eight faced the barrier. Off to a good start the field raced for the first jump with Blen More (136 lbs.) over first. Except for Gridiron the field took this fence well. The latter swerved out and into another horse, but recovered rapidly and then joined in pressing the pace. Blen More gave way to Gridiron

(130 lbs.) around the first turn, who continued to set the pace for the next turn of the field, followed by Dromond (142 lbs.), Caste (148 lbs.) and Hurst Park (143 lbs.). The second top weight, *Narcissus 2nd (154 lbs.) and Independence, the top weight with 156 lbs., were restrained off the pace, but the entire field ran fairly well grouped. There were no important changes in position until the field rounded into the far side the second time, when there was a closing up on the leader, and at the middle fence on the far side, the field of eight were within four or five lengths of each other. At this fence, Caste, running third at the time, bobbled and threw Jimmy Murphy up over his neck, but he recovered quickly, and few strides later, he with Blen More and Dromond, swept by Gridiron. Around the turn, Blen More drew out slightly and looked like the winner, but both Dromond and Caste stayed with him, and as these three went into the front side heading for the final fence, Blen More was on the outside, Dromond in the middle, and Caste on the inside. Because of their relative position, plus the fact that Blen More went a little wide, both Caste and Dromond moved closer to Blen More and were lapped on him. Going to the final fence. Apparently without realizing it, Hoey took Blen More in, and as a consequence, crossed over on Dromond causing Foot to check and go to the outside. Meanwhile Blen More continued his rapid pace, cleared the last jump well and drove on up to the wire with four lengths to spare. Dromond was another five in front of Caste with *Narcissus 2nd two and a half lengths further back.

Rails Moved

Blen More completed the about two miles in 4:12, a new course record for the past two years, but this record can only be taken as a 1958 record due to the use of the aluminum railing around both the upper and lower turns. Last year, to repair the course closest to the hedges, the rail was placed out about ten feet. This year, it has been moved in quite close. Mathematically the difference is estimated to amount to about two and a half seconds for the distance. This compares with the best 1957 time set by Independence, 4:12 3/5. This last mentioned during the race under review was ridden by Tommy Walsh, and appeared to run into bad racing luck several times during the running. However, he was in a good position the second time around, although on the outside of his field, and just did not seem good enough at the weights.

Dromond is a smallish son of Annapolis out of the Heliopolis mare, Benu. Now a five-year-old, he races for Mrs. Marion du Pont Scott, his breeder. The Beverwyck was his initial 1958 appearance

TEXAS

WAYMARK'S OFFSPRING

Can one imagine a lot of interest in Saturday's program at Jamaica emanating from Granbury, Texas, a small village on the Brazos. Floyd West, head of one of Dallas' most important insurance agencies, and originally one of the charter members of the now defunct Texas Thoroughbred Breeders Association, who raced a stable through the country and also bred many Thoroughbreds at his Richardson farm, Westwood, now lives at Granbury and still manages to keep contact with the Thoroughbred industry. And, on Saturday at Jamaica, two well-known gallopers, Mark The Way and Wirey Marks, belonging to Mrs. J. Schwartz, participated. Both horses are out of Waymark, a brood mare very much in the news of late which was foaled at the West farm near Dallas. Waymark is by Nedayr, now defunct and top sire in Mexico for many years. Bud Burmester, Fort Worth horseman, owned Nedayr at the time he was bred to Hie Nock, dam of Waymark, and it was Burmester who put West on the alert for the dual appearance of the Waymark progeny Saturday. Unhappily, neither won.

MONMOUTH YEARLING SHOW

Champion of the 12th Annual Monmouth Park Jockey Club Yearling Show, held at the track, Oceanport, N. J. on July 16th, was a bay colt bred and owned by David O. Evans of Evansdale Farm, Holmdel, N. J. The colt is by Ramillies, who formerly stood in Virginia at Walter P. Chrysler, Jr.'s North Wales Farm, and out of Dusky Ann by Shut Out. According to Judge John M. Gaver, manager of the Greentree Stable and Stud, "the colt appeared to be the best balanced, a wonderful head with eyes well set and he appeared to have the right kind of walk and seemed perfectly sound." Mr. Evans was on hand to accept the awards for his colt who was later judged Grand Champion. John McShain, of the Barclay Stable, whose filly won her class and was Reserve Champion is currently in England to see his Ballymoss and Gladness run in the King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes at Ascot. His farm manager, Thoburn Smith, therefore accepted the trophies on his employer's behalf.

VIRGINIA

SPRINGSBURY YEARLINGS

The only Saratoga yearling by the Washington International winner Wilwyn, the lone Mr. Busher colt and the sale's sole filly from the first crop of Hasty Road feature the five offerings from Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh, Berryville, Va., to be sold on Wednesday night, August 13, by the Fasig-Tipton Co.

Hasty Road earned a record sum as a two-year-old, and kept knocking hard in later years to pile up a total income of $541,402. His daughter is a three-quarters sister to Roman Patrol, winner of the Remsen Stakes and Louisiana Derby, out of a half sister to stakes captors on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean.

Another first-crop representative from Mrs. Greenhalgh's consignment is a half brother, by the $581,910 earner and top ranking three-year-old Mark-Ye-Well to the Hythe Plate winner Passion. The dam, the August Plate victor *Transparent, is a half sister to four other high-class runners and to the dams of half a dozen English stakes captors.

The "youth movement" as to sires also extends to Mrs. Greenhalgh's imported-in-utero colt by the Washington C. C., International victor Wilwyn, whose first crop did so well in England last season. This yearling is the first foal of the stakes-placed *Hypermnestra, three-quarters sister to the Hardwicke Stakes captor Exaggerator, and half sister to two other high-class runners.

Those fine speed sires Mr. Busher and Your Host got the remaining colts. The son of Your Host is a half brother to Ikes Jeep and to nine other winners who have accumulated a total of 67 victories and $130,598. This is the family of the Kentucky Derby winner Alan-a-Dale. Dam of the Mr. Busher colt is a half sister to the classy steeplechasers Drift and Beaufre, from a fine English family.

PORTERHOUSE RETIRED

Mrs. M. E. Lunn, of Llangollen Farm, Upperville, Va., has decided to retire her home-bred Porterhouse (*Endeavour II-Red Stamp), who suffered a fractured splint bone in his right front leg in the recent American Handicap at Hollywood Park. The Virginia-bred was leading 2-year-old of the year, beat Swaps in the $100,000 added Californian in 1956 and holds the world's record of 1.02 2/5 for five and a half furlongs, set in the Hollywood Express in 1957. His lifetime earnings are $519,450.

VIRGINIA WINNERS

The Virginia Thoroughbred Association reports the following Virginians who owned or bred recent winners: Llangollen Farm (Restless Wind, Unlisted, Motest Hostess); Mrs. Marie A. Moore (Restless Wind, Rico Bronco); Kentmere Farm (Pasu, Romanita); Whitewood Stud (*Arywa); Audley Farm (Jodi, Pore Jim, Should We, Moony, Mark's Puzzle, Buckles N Bows); Mrs. A. C. Randolph (Wana, Alight, Nosegay, Aglow); Mrs. T. M. Waller (Mustato, Catawba Maid); P. Hunter Faulconer (Edsun, Pollynaire, Round Heels); S. O. TUDOR MELODY

Generally considered the best juvenile in England, following his fourth consecutive victory when taking the Chesham Stakes at the Royal Ascot meeting, Tudor Melody has been sold through the British Bloodstock Agency to Leslie Combs II, Mrs. Abercrombie and Mr. Krimendahl.

Like *Tomy Lee, Tudor Melody is by Tudor Minstrel, his dam being the Dante mare Matelda. He will stay with his present trainer, Dick Peacock, until the end of the season and then be sent to the United States.

SLEDMERE SALE

A recent transaction carried out on behalf of the Anglo-Irish Agency on behalf of undisclosed American clients has been the purchase in Britain for a near-record price of the ten year old mare Neutron.

Owned by the Sledmere Stud, Neutron is by Hyperion out of Participation, tracing to Pretty Polly, and is believed safely in foal to Ribot.

The winner of two races, Neutron is the dam of the classy Court Harwell, second to Ballymoss in last year's St Leger and the winner of the Jockey Club Stakes, the Winston Churchill Stakes and three other races worth a total of 25,000.

BACK YOUR TRAINER

Columnist Bob Horwood gives the following formula for success in racing. "Select your trainer with the same care with which you would choose a family physician and once having made your choice, stay with it through the good times and bad, regardless of what you may hear from friends and associates who may be adept at pointing out your man's mistakes.

"Stick with him even though he may sometimes be wanting in tact and may occasionally think that his judgment as to where to race, who to ride and how much to drill your horses, is better than yours or that of your friendly advisors. Believe us, if you have taken reasonable care in the first place to select a capable and experienced horseman, and there are many of them available, you will find it profitable to give him the same confidence - with no interference - you would give the physician mentioned above, the pilot you would engage to fly your private plane, or the executive you would hire for your business.

"If you doubt the wisdom of this fidelity, take a look at who, year after year, wins the major stakes. Calumet Farm's racing destiny has been directed by Ben and Jimmy Jones for almost 20 years. John Gaver has guided the Greentree Stable fortunes since the death of his mentor, James Rowe, while Burt Mulholland succeeded to the post with George D. Widener held by the late Andrew Jackson Joyner. Preston Bruch and his son, Elliott, are fixtures with the Brookmeade Stable, as is Dick Handlen with Foxcatcher Farms. Henry S. Clark has been with the Christiana Stable since its formation, while the much older Wheatley Stable has had no trainer but Mr. Fitz, though there were many lean seasons following a sensational debut.

GOOD THREE YEAR OLD FROM ENGLAND

The three year old Teynham, winner this year of the Queen Anne Stakes at the Royal Ascot Meeting, has been bought by American Stephen (Laddie) Sanford to race in the United States.

By Wilwyn out of the Queen Mary Stakes winner Devon Vintage, Teynham was placed in two of his three starts at two, and this season was beaten a nose in his first race. The Queen Anne Stakes was his only other outing when, in receipt of 14 lb, he beat Tharp, previous conqueror of Derby winner Hard Ridden, by half a length.

QUALITY AT BELMONT

Quality is like jewels. It comes in small quantities. It is rare. And it is lovely to look at.

There was quality all over the place during and right after the 1958 edition of The Suburban at Belmont Park on July 4. Bold Ruler contributed his share by carrying 134 pounds to a thrilling win over Clem, the latter carrying 106 pounds. The quality stood out like a neon sign when Clem looked Bold Ruler in the eye at about the sixteenth pole. It appeared at that point that the grand Wheatley colt just couldn't make it with the high weight. The one and only Eddie Arcaro swatted Bold Ruler lightly and pumped him in to a nose win. It was a masterful ride by The Maestro and a great show of true quality on the part of the animal.

In the winner's circle, Mrs. Phipps accepted the trophy from J. Edgar Hoover. If those aren't two people of the highest quality, I'll be glad to argue with anybody who thinks otherwise. Mrs. Phipps has sent her colt out on his home grounds carrying the weights assigned to him, high ones. He has mostly won, but he has lost too. No complaints though. He carried the weight and he runs beyond what is generally accepted as being his best distance, a mile, and no excuses are offered. None are needed. It is rather refreshing to see this happen after reading about horses chasing lightweights all over the country and dodging top competition just to earn vast sums of money. I know, I know, it is expensive to run a racing stable. It is expensive for Mrs. Phipps too.

HOW TO LOSE

Willie Shoemaker discovered a unique, or at least a spectacular way, of losing a race when he stood up in the stirrups before he reached the finish line in the 1957 Kentucky Derby. It is, of course, questionable whether he actually lost the race because of his mistaking the finish line, but there is one thing for sure. It didn't help win the race. Bill Hartack discovered another way at Churchill Downs the Saturday before the Derby this year. He broke his leg in the starting gate. Manuel Ycaza found a very effective way of losing a race in the 1958 Flamingo. He smacked Jewel's Reward into Tim Tam and got disqualified.

There are lots of other ways of losing races, but they had one at Caliente this spring which won't be duplicated for some time. The 25-year-old Hawaiian, Mitchell Mitsuhide Shirota, was in a comfortable lead when he ran into a flock of ducks on the track. He lost. That will hold me for unusual ways of losing races until somebody collides with a dinosaur.

This jockey Shirota, incidentally, is one of a few jockeys to sport a college degree. (I haven't heard of any others). He got his AB degree from Brigham Young University this year. He got good marks and majored in Political Science. He accomplished this feat in three years instead of the usual four. He paid his way thru college by working on a Thoroughbred farm during summers. I wonder if he ever worked on a duck farm.

DAUGHTER OF *ARCTIC PRINCE

Owned by Mr. J. McGrath, who formerly had her sire, *Arctic Prince's daughter Lonely Princess lived up to her name when winning the Royston Handicap Stakes at Newmarket by six lengths, for she went out to the front right from the start and under her bottom weight of 101 lb ran right away from her seven rivals, none of whom ever got within reach of her.

A three year old from the Lighthouse mare Lonely Maid, this was her first success, though she had been placed several times. The race was over 1 1/2 miles.

SARATOGA TWO-YEAR-OLDS

Marshall Cassidy, vice president and director of racing for the New York Racing Association, has announced: "To provide as much opportunity as possible for untried 2-year-olds during the Saratoga meeting, only seven races will be listed in the first condition book on those days when maiden 2-year-old races are to be run. This will permit a split of the maiden races whenever necessary. On such days a substitute race will be listed for use in the event the maiden 2-year-old event is not split."

ANDERSON MADE IT

Billy Anderson, a wide grin with man attached, sat on a small trunk in the jockey quarters at Waterford Park. He was tired from the rigors of riding. Perspiration streamed down the tanned, smiling face of the apprentice jockey. His happiness was easily explainable. When he guided Mrs. R. LaPlant's Ultimatum into the winner's circle he had just taken over as leading rider of the meeting with 25 saddle scores, one more than the total chalked up thus far by Willie Downs.

"It's a goal I set for myself when I started riding here with the June 4 opening," Anderson jubilantly exclaimed. "But it's been a long pull. I've been trying to get a start for years. Mr. Bedwell (Lester G. Bedwell, his contract employer) is the one who finally gave me the break, and am I glad."

It could be claimed that Max Hirsch, famous trainer for the King Ranch of Texas, developed Anderson. It was Bedwell, however, who added the finishing touches.

Because of his small frame - four feet, six inches, Anderson went with horses at an early age. He rode a few races at the "bush" quarter-horse meetings in Texas, whistle-stops such as Ft. Stockton, Brady and others, before he came to the attention of Hirsch who contracted him to the King Ranch. Opportunities with the stable were limited. Bill Roland, a top-notch jockey, was the stable rider, so Anderson exercised horses in the morning - horses like High Gun, To Market, On Your Own and others - and then repaired to the outer railing to watch Boland boot them home in the afternoon.

The idea of merely exercising Thoroughbreds, and going to Saratoga in the summer and down to the expansive 900,000 acre King Ranch at Kingville, Texas in the winter, was not exactly Anderson's idea of a career as a jockey.

This past January owner-trainer Bedwell, who was casting about for a jockey prospect, came to an agreement with Hirsch for Anderson's contract. The rest of it is now history. The boy came to Waterford Park with Bedwell, "broke his maiden" early in the meeting, and has since visited the winner's circle a sufficient number of times to head the saddle colony at the West Virginia mile course.

SPANISH BROODMARE

Spain's greatest race is the Gran Premio Nacional at 12 furlongs. According to columnist Leon Rasmussen, one mare, Aya (Toribio-La Belle Munibe) produced five winners of this event in her foals of 1943, 1945, 1947, 1949 and 1950.

OVER THE 10,000 MARK

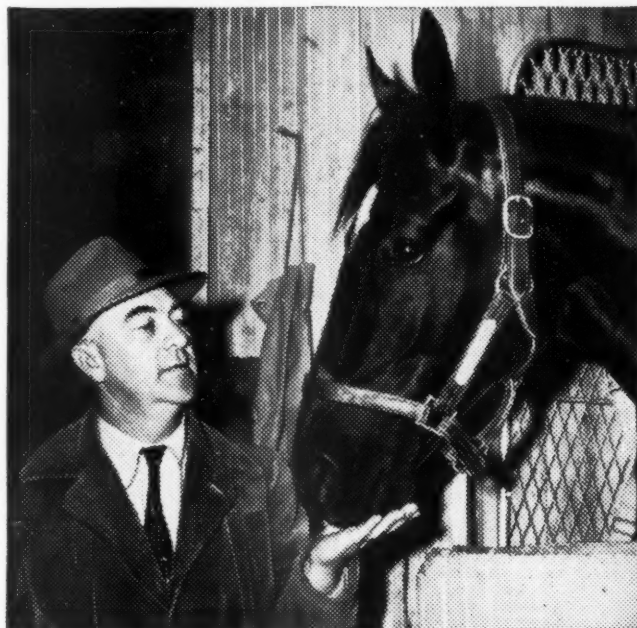

As you know, the lip tattoo by which the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau facilitates the identification of racers to forestall the substitution of one horse for another involves marking indelibly the four numbers of the foal's Jockey Club registration number inside its upper lip along with a letter indicating the year of foaling. Native Dancer's lip tattoo, for example, was F6881.

The foals of 1956 will probably constitute the first crop to go over 10,000 in number. That will mean another digit will have to be added to the identification number of the latest foals to be registered. By April, the registrations had reached 9,594 according to the supplement to The Jockey Club Stud Book published in that month. The late registrations, chances are, will bring the total easily over the 10,000 mark.

In another thirteen years, when TRPB has used up all 26 letters in the alphabet, they will have to start using double letters which will mean adding another unit to the identification. About that time, they will have to start using smaller print for their identification or ask the breeders to produce foals with bigger lips.

SYLVESTER "SYL" VEITCH, trainer at C. V. Whitney Stables, says:

"Always used Absorbine in Fisherman's body wash"

Working with winners is nothing new to "Syl" Veitch, and that's how he rates Absorbine—a winner.

"Racing puts extra physical stress and strain on a horse and that calls for extra-special care," says Mr. Veitch. "As a body wash and leg brace, I can't recommend Absorbine too highly."

Since 1892, Absorbine has been a byword in stables where the conditioning and care of horses is a first consideration. It does not blister the skin or remove hair. A large bottle with complete instructions costs only $2.50 at any druggist.

A Folktale of Ohio Hound Men

Erasmus F. Darby

FOREWORD

The main theme of this yarn has many versions. Coon hunters and fox hunters all over Southern Ohio and down in West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee can all tell you a version of their own. Most of the tales are based on fact and some have gained or lost by constant retelling. A good many of these folk yarns deserve being preserved in print. The version I have chosen to retell is based on actual fact. Nevertheless, it is a pretty fair story, I hope.

Erasmus Foster Darby

Chillicothe, Ohio

July 31, 1957

(NOTE: This tale is DEDICATED to my good friend, John Markham. E. F. D.

Pike County is today, with its new atomic plant, one of the more modern counties of the state, but back in prohibition days Pike County was a wild and hilly place.

In those days there were many stills in Pike County, and Pike County corn liquor was considered much more wholesome than much of the illegal liquor being made in surrounding counties.

Local law enforcement officials in Pike as well as all the other Southern Ohio counties seemed to doubt very much the existence of illegal stills in their own counties. "If there are stills around here; why doesn't someone file charges", they'd say. Actually, for some reason charges NEVER were filed locally. Maybe there weren't any stills as the sheriff's men often said.

The Federal Revenue men seemed to think there were stills in the hills in spite of what the sheriffs and their deputies believed. Some revenue men would come into the hills in various disguises, but seldom found evidence of any stills. No violence was ever done a revenue man. Nevertheless, many revenue men were often discouraged or embarrassed in some manner and usually their stays in the hills were short indeed.

One day in the early part of November, after all the leaves were off the trees, a revenue man came to the county seat driving a new shiny Pierce-Arrow car. Straight to the sheriff's house he drove. This revenue man was tall and straight and almost as handsome looking as his car. He soon found the sheriff and his deputies. He informed them he was a revenue man and showed them the papers to prove it. He'd just been graduated from an Eastern University law school he told them. Then he explained how he had been appointed a revenue man on account of his law school education. He explained he wasn't here in disguise; that he was here in the hills to do a job; that he wanted total cooperation from the sheriff's office. "No dilly dallying" he told them. "Tomorrow morning you take me out into those hills and I'm going to tell them what the law is. Man to man we'll talk it out, this illegal liquor making must be stopped, now."

Tomorrow morning arrived and the revenue man was at the sheriff's office before anyone else. He was dressed quite properly in a nice black suit, black derby hat and an immaculate white shirt and black bow tie. However, he did wear boots properly in this rough road, then they got out and walked and started to climb a ridge. And nice high black leather boots they were; each boot so polished it shone like a mirror.

There wasn't much said; the sheriff took the revenue man with him in the front seat of the sheriff's car while the three deputies climbed in back. They drove out of the county seat and turned off into the hills at the first side road. They were only able to go for about 8 miles with the car on this rough road, then they got out and walked and started to climb a ridge.

It was a long time until they got to the top of the ridge, and all five men were puffing some. The revenue man looked down into the far hollow and said "Is this still country?" The sheriff replied, "could be, but all I know for certain is they mostly raise hounds." And one of the deputies pointing down another hollow at an old log cabin only about 800 feet below them, said "There's Ben's place and he always keeps more than 50 hounds."

"Let's go to Ben's" the revenue man ordered. So they started down the hill towards Ben's. When they were half way down they stopped in a small clearing to rest. They could hear Ben's hounds carry'n on at a great rate. Shortly a large red spotted hound came softly into the clearing, trotted halfway across the clearing, stopped beside a small bush, heisted his leg and let go. Soon, another large hound came into the clearing, sniffed around a bit until he came to the small bush, then he heisted his leg and let go.

At this time the quietest and most dumb looking of the deputies very quietly stepped over to the small bush, took his pocket knife and cut off the bush very carefully at the ground and stealthily took the bush over to where the revenue man was standing and unobservedly brushed this bush a few times back and forth across the revenue man's shiny black boots.

Then, just as quietly and stealthily the deputy tossed the bush high in the branches of a nearby tree, where it stayed.

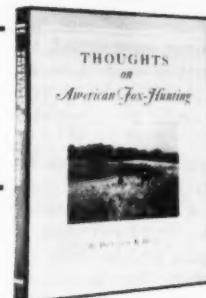

If any of the other deputies or the sheriff noticed this deputy's queer actions with the

The "Peter Beckford" of Fox-Hunting in America THOUGHTS on American Fox-Hunting

By DENISON B. HULL
M.F.H., The Fox River Valley Hunt

With an easy style and a light touch Denison Hull has wrapped up more sound, basic knowledge on American fox-hunting than you can find in any other book. The noted international M.F.H., A Henry Higginson, says in his Foreword: "I have spent many hours in reading this M.S. which I have found not only most interesting, but instructive, and I feel sure that nothing that has yet been written will be more helpful to American Sportsmen."

The volume is beautifully illustrated with photographs of famous Hunts and hounds and with sketches by the author. Handsomely printed in a limited, numbered edition, with gold-stamped cloth binding and a slip case, THOUGHTS ON AMERICAN FOXHUNTING is a book which every foxhunter can take pride and delight in owning.

Chapters cover: Hunting, Organization, Clothes & Etiquette, Horses, Hounds, Breeding, Training, Kennels, Hunting the Hounds, and Some Afterthoughts. Use the convenient coupon below to order your copy.

bush they never said a word then or ever afterwards.

Shortly two more hounds came into the clearing, sniffed around a bit until they came to the revenue man's boots where each heisted a leg and let go. The heretofore calm revenue man jumped and cursed. His boots were soiled. And not even a yellow dog had ever done that to him before. The sheriff and his deputies were as calm as could be. They didn't say a word.

Soon, more and more hounds came into the clearing. Each of the more than 50 hounds took a heist at the polished boots. Some took two shots and some took three.

The revenue man became a crazed and anguished man. He hurled unfounded charges against not only Ben and his hounds, but also against the sheriff and his men. "Why do they heist against me but not against you?" the revenue man babbled between clenched teeth. "I'll have Ben arrested", he threatened. "What for?" the sheriff mildly replied. "It may be against your boots, but it's not against the law."

The hounds were still heisting at the polished boots when the revenue man dashed into the woods. The sheriff and his men soon followed him and guided him to the car. One deputy more kind than the rest, very softly explained to the revenue man, "Every hound in these hills knows a revenue man; they could have grabbed you by the throat, my friend."

As soon as they hit town again the revenue man tore off his boots and threw them in the court-house yard where they lay for several weeks until every hound and mongrel in the county seat had heisted at least once at them.

This particular revenue man never did return.

OTTAWA VALLEY HUNT

Maybury Farm,
Aylmer Road,
Aylmer East,
Quebec, Canada.
Established 1936.
Recognized 1953.

Activities in the Ottawa Valley Hunt this last Spring and early Summer have not been entirely at a standstill, waiting for the Fall hunting season. As soon as the snow disappeared, a group of members arranged weekly informal shows to help get riders and horses ready for the larger shows and the Annual Canadian Pony Club Rally. The programmes arranged provided a variety of classes, starting out with easy hack classes and gradually working up to rather stiff cross country and stadium jumping courses. The Ottawa Valley Hunt is very grateful to Mrs. Duncan MacTavish, Mr. Fred McLean and Mr. T. G.

THE CHRONICLE

Maybury who loaned their property and equipment for these events. The judges were members of the Ottawa Valley Hunt and the Junior Judges and Ring Stewards were members of the Ottawa Valley Hunt Branch Pony Club.

As often as was practicable, Lt. Col. H. A. McKibbin, Honorary Huntsman, arranged a few short drag hunts, and these drag hunts, coupled with the informal weekly shows, soon had riders and horses in top notch condition.

On June 7th under the capable chairmanship of Mrs. John R. Woods, a most successful Gymkhana was held. This is not the first time Mrs. Woods has been chairman of an event of this nature, and the programmes which she arranges are original and interesting, which ensures a good time for competitors and financial success for the Hunt.

From June 26th to the 29th, the majority of the members took time out to attend the 11th Canadian Annual Inter-Branch Rally of Pony Clubs at Richmond, Ontario, and this Rally was followed immediately by a course of instruction at the Maybury Farm, under the direction of Mrs. Cabell Self and Mrs. Verl Crew of Connecticut.

The Annual One Day Horse Trials were held on July 5th under the Joint Chairmanship of Lt. Col. Hugh Miller and Mr. J. M. Garland, who took over after Lt. Col. H. A. McKibbin was posted to Kingston, Ontario. It is most unfortunate the Committee in charge could not guarantee sunny weather. It poured rain and the riders who did compete certainly demonstrated courage and good sportsmanship.

The 1958 Fixture Card has been prepared and between September 1st and November 8th, seventeen Meets have been arranged. The Hunt Committee has received with regret the resignation of a Joint Master, Lt. Col. Cuthbert Scott. Colonel Scott has been a member of the Ottawa Valley Hunt since the Billings Bridge days and was Honorary Secretary-Treasurer for a period of five years, before being appointed a Joint Master in 1956. We are pleased to hear that while he has relinquished the position of Joint Master, his enthusiasm for the sport has not lessened and that he intends to participate in as many Meets as possible. Mr. John M. Garland has been appointed Joint Master, to replace Lt. Col. Scott.

At the present time members are busy preparing themselves and their mounts for the Central Canada Exhibition Horse Show in August, and later on will compete in the Ottawa Winter Fair Horse Show in October. They are indeed busy people.

Rolling Rock Hunt

The Rolling Rock Horse and Breeders Show was greatly improved from a spectator's viewpoint by including the Loyalhanna Junior Horse and Pony Show in their two day event. The variety of Hunter and Junior classes definitely increased the gate and from a "Railbird's" point of view was much more interesting. The exhibitors were happier too; they had a chance to get their feet on the ground instead of one class after another.

All divisions were well filled, except the Conformation that is suffering in many shows, due to the new Green rule. The Breeding classes were exceptionally good.

Mr. Alfred M. Hunt's Benny Supple and Mrs. C. W. Balling's Pate, once more battled for the top green honors. This is the third show this year that these two horses have been pinned Champion and Reserve, respectively.

A Pony Club Program ride was included in the Saturday events, and was won by Brigit Freeland. This young lady's ride was smooth and effortless, her transitions excellent.

Miss Margaret Humphrey and her brother G. Watts Jr. were new faces to the local scene. Margaret gave an excellent account of herself and her horse Golden Glenn, by taking home the Junior Championship and the Reserve Working Hunter. G. Watts Humphrey Jr. was judged the top Junior rider of the show and presented with the Loyalhanna Horse and Pony Perpetual Equitation Bowl by Mrs. Leonard Bughman, founder of the Loyalhanna show. To qualify for this class a Junior had to win either his Equitation class or Horsemanship over Fences. Young Watts placed first in both of the classes in the 13 to 18 years division.

The Sewickley Hunt Team of the same three horses that retired the Hunting Hill Challenge last year - Wm. Hanley's Red Chester and Tillery's Spree with Mr. W. C. Robinson Jr.'s Steady Friar - repeated their twelfth blue performance to get their name on the top of the new Challenge Trophy.

EXCLUSIVELY OURS

The CORINTHIAN Forward-Seat Jumping Saddle

The Greatest advance in saddle design since the advent of the Italian Forward Seat.

Pictured above is the Corinthian saddle and the REVOLUTIONARY new tree on which it is built. It is made ENTIRELY of laminated Birch plywood with none of the many joints or crossgrains that are the cause of breakage and spreading in ordinary Beechwood trees.

Each tree is built up on a mould for complete trueness. Its great strength (at no extra weight) allows a new concept of "sweep of seat" design and narrowness of twist, affording the rider comfort and security heretofore unattainable.

Built entirely by hand by England's finest saddlers, it has a deep pigskin seat with a 3/4" dip, deeply recessed safety stirrup bars, "sure-grip" panels lined with French calfskin, and deeply moulded flaps to enfold concealed knee rolls. For hunt field, showing or hacking, the "Corinthian" will add greatly to your riding comfort, safety and performance.

We offer you a two-week trial period. You may use the Corinthian as though it were your own. If you are not delighted with it, return it and receive an immediate refund in full.

Please let us know your height and weight when ordering. Also tell us if your horse has high, low, or average withers.

Price, less fittings -----$177.00

Complete with Super Grade fittings-----$200.00

1. Laminated tree has no joints or crossgrains at these vital points.

2. Head and cantle have over 15 layers of plywood.

3. Narrow "twist" or waist for greater comfort and grip.

4. Newly designed recessed safety stirrup bars.

5. Spring Steel reinforcements for flexibility and added strength.

6. Flanged gullet plate to eliminate spreading or breaking.

7. Note sweep of actual tree, impossible to achieve with conventional tree construction.

THE PENNSYLVANIAN "BIG JUMP" $10,000 (estimated) SWEEPSTAKE

Thursday Night - October 23, 1958

Natural "Lepper"

This description of a good jumper, has never been more applicable than in the case of one, "Dear Brutus" - the 15.2 eight-year-old bay gelding owned by Miss Elizabeth Colquhoun, of "Little Tingewick House", Nr. Buckingham, England. She broke and schooled him at her stables here, and only trained him for two weeks prior to his first three day event, being the Badminton Trials, where he was placed tenth out of a record field of 881. The 17 1/2 miles gruelling test of tremendous jumps created no fears for this courageous animal. He was the first in the Tweedown (Civ. Intermediate Class) and fourth at Glanusk, and at Stowell Park beat the redoubtable Olympic horse "Wild Venture".

Miss Colquhoun often has to career over fields, if Brutus's box door is ever left open a moment, as twenty yards away is a five-barred gate that he gaily jumps-gallops across a paddock only to clear another gate, two hedges - returning to clear his first gate then to wander into his box to await any fodder!

He was bought originally for 40 pounds and, on the final day of Badminton Trials, Miss Colquhoun was one of the five competitors to faultlessly complete the show jumping course that ends the trials. No wonder she smiled with pride as "Dear Brutus" was wearing the mauve rosette presented by H. M. The Queen. R. J. T-H.

Kempsville

According to old timers, the three day Kempsville Woman's Club Horse Show with over 3,000 spectators was the second largest ever held in Norfolk, Va. Over 250 horses were entered in the 76 events held on the beautiful permanent show grounds of the Tidewater Horse & Pony Assn. at Greenbriar Farms.

Time was the major problem in this otherwise well organized show. Some of the jumping classes were held as late as 1 a.m. due to the muddy going on the first night, and also to the large number of unexpected entries and number of classes to be run.

Grover Stephen's White Christmas made a clean sweep of the green working hunter division. The consistent little gray from Warrenton captured all six of the green classes, and the championship. The reserve honors were a toss-up until the stake class, when Laura Shreve's His Luck took a second to edge out Dickie Strauss' Off Shore, and Larry Lax's Blonde Amazon for reserve.

In the first class of the open jumper division, Wally Holly became the jock to beat as he took a blue on Gordon Fishbacks Hailstorm, a second on Merrified Stables' Warhawk, and a third on his own Rainbow. Throughout the show, Wally was never out of the ribbons, and came on to win the jumper championship with Rainbow. Sonny Martin bought the Ormond Biltmore Stables the reserve with Biltmore's Pride.

Peggy Pike's worries about a bare mantle are over for another year. Sunset Beau, Peggy's big bay gelding, presented her with the huge Lynnhaven Hunt Club Challenge Trophy for the second year and also jumped his way to the working hunter championship over Grover Stephen's Ivy League.

Veteran ponies captured both tricolors in the pony hunter division. The small pony award went to Willard Smith's bold going Robin Hood. The consistent little bay from Hampton, Va. was also the grand pony champion of the show. In the large division, Kathleen Watson's Snow Dancer remained undefeated in championships as he took his sixth out of as many shows this season. K. B.

North Oaks

At the sixth annual horse show, presented by the North Oaks Riding Club at its own show ring, 125 exhibitors entered 140 horses and ponies in thirty classes. The entire event was highlighted by the fact that it was the first horse show of the year recognized by the Minnesota Centennial as a Centennial Sports Event. Chairman Cliff Sommer, Owatonna, head of the Centennial Sports Committee, opened the show on Sunday and Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvag was on hand to present a trophy and ribbons.

The North Oaks Horse Show is a member of the Tri-State Association and entries included many fine hunters and jumpers throughout the St. Paul-Minneapolis area as well as Wisconsin and Iowa.

Saturday was predominately Children's Day and the winners were well divided in the eighteen classes that day, though Barbara Bemis atop her beautiful brown light-weight hunter (Nymphodon) won two firsts in the two-day events. Martha Daniels rode Caroline, a lightweight hunter, to capture the Hunter Championship for the second time since 1955.

The Scurry Class, open to jumpers only, closed the show dramatically amid a torrential downpour. Remarkably there were no bad spills and Dr. Elmer Berg's bay gelding Pot au Feu, Jr. had a brilliant go, ridden by Tux Maxey, to cop the magnificent silver punch bowl challenge trophy established this year by Patrick Butler of St. Paul. Mont Gabriel Club

The Mont Gabriel Club of Ste. Adele, Quebec, was the scene of an excellent horse show and Gymkhana. Held under cloudy and damp skies the show was well attended with the proceeds going to The Boy's Farm at Shawbridge.

The Club's horse show grounds are one of the most beautiful in the district situated as they are in the Laurentian Mountains. In one section there is a large horse show ring and the balance of the property of many acres is a series of outside courses over rolling country, the spectators can follow the progress of each horse over every obstacle, because the Club show grounds are on the peak of the mountain, which gives an excellent view for many a mile.

H. J. O'Connell president of the horse show is also owner of the Mont Gabriel Club, the show was managed by Joe Hart.

The two outstanding performances of the day were given by Mrs Sue Reardon on Benjamin Price, this pair won the Working Hunter and Ladies Working Hunter Class. Suzanne O'Connell who was second in the Ladies class won the Junior Working Hunter class, and the Open Working Hunter Class with Beau Geste, while sister June did very well with Question Mark in the Gymkhana Classes.

Lawrence Gagnon won the Corinthian Working Hunter on Ouragan, this was a colourful class and the blue ribbon is most sought by all, this young rider shows exceptional talent.

Great Barrington

The background and layout of the Great Barrington Fair Grounds makes a beautiful place to hold a show, with their permanent ring and hunt course, and permanent stabling; it is certainly ideal.

The open jumper points were well distributed. No horse had more than one win except Bellaire which won three classes and took the championship, ridden by Mrs. Shirley Weinstein. Runner up was First Chance who got reserve.

In the green working hunter division the championship went to Queen's Lady owned by Mrs. Hugh Barclay and ridden by Dave Kelley, but the reserve was tied and had to be hacked off between Our Boy, owned by Mrs. Charles J. Brown and ridden by Russell Stewart and Delrich owned by Mr. Roger B. Kelley and ridden by Dave Kelley, with the ribbon going to the former. Exhibitor.

Wilton

The Wilton Horse and Pony Club were fortunate almost all day long in the rain holding off except for one near cloudburst early on the afternoon of July 12th when they held their Thirty fourth annual Horse Show and their fourth annual Dressage Competition. All Dressage Classes were held on their brand new permanent outdoor arena with sand footing, which we believe is the first one of its kind in the United States. Scipio, owned by Sunnyfield Farms, swept the Tests winning all he entered including the Hiram E. Tuttle Memorial Dressage Trophy, the Wilton Riding Club Challenge Trophy, and the Dressage Championship. Sahri, owned by Mrs. Philip Hayes, won the Three Phase Event of a Dressage Test, Jumping the Outside Course, and Ring Jumping. Star Ryff, owned by Miss Harrah Lord, took the Championship of the regular Horse Show Events. Miss Susan Aldrich, after winning the ASPCA Horsemanship Event (the MacLay), and the AHSA medal proceeded to win the Horsemanship Championship of the Horse Show events. E.C.D.

Telegraphic Jumping Meets Prove Very Successful

John H. Fritz

The telegraphic jumping meets this May of the Black Horse Troop of Culver Military Academy in Indiana with the Junior Essex Troop of West Orange, New Jersey, and Troop D of New York Military Academy on the Hudson marked the third anniversary of what has proved to be a very successful type of competition for junior riding groups widely separated by geographical distance. The first such meet was a cooperative venture of the Junior Essex Troop and Culver on April 21, 1956. Later that spring Culver competed in a similar type event with NYMA.

After holding telegraphic meets for three years, the instructors of these three teenage mounted organizations are enthusiastic about this type of competition. A real competitive spirit between the groups has developed as has a spirit of comradeship and mutual interest. The extent of this spirit and interest is illustrated by a letter which the captain of Culver's jumping team recently received from a 1957 graduate who lives in Havana. He urged the Culver team to make a clean sweep in the competition with NYMA since he and a NYMA jumping team member from Havana had argued at great length over the Christmas holidays as to which school had the better jumpers.

While the competitions between Essex, Culver, and NYMA have been limited to one type of event each year, there is no reason why mounted groups such as Pony Clubs might not actually hold telegraphic shows including a number of classes if they so desired. The events must of necessity be limited to the type of competitions in which courses can be reasonably duplicated in two different places and where such objective criteria as jumping faults and time form the basis of comparing results. But even here the possibilities are numerous. Both individual and team types of competitions and scorings are possible.

Culver-Essex Meet

A Division - 1. Culver A-2 Team (Neil Augenstein, Fredrico Moreno, James Judy) 3 faults; 2. Essex A-1 Team (Ronald Scornavacca, Dennis Glaccum, Walter Kunisch) 7 faults; 3. End Of Hunt Pony Club

The End of Hunt Pony Club held its seventh annual show on June 29th. This year a new class, the Huntsman's Apprenticeship, was added with a challenge trophy as a prize. The object of this class, which is open only to children who have followed the hounds fox hunting, is to encourage children to learn to fox hunt and appreciate this fine sport. Georgianne Jones riding her favorite hunter, Timber Lady, on whom she first hunted when 8 years old and on whom she later learned to whip hounds for her father, placed first. Judy Richard, riding a 4 year old Vinsfurlough colt named Gray Dawn, placed second.

The pair class was one of the most pleasing flat classes to watch with well matched grays, bays, chestnuts and several pairs of ponies. The grays, both sired by Vinsfurlough, were well handled for performance by Judy Richard and Sandy Gartner and pinned the blues. Ann Wimberly's Elysian Echo and Georgianne Jones' Lark placed second.

The Club's coveted Pleasure Horse or Pony Challenge Trophy, which has been in circulation since 1953, will go to Ann Wimberly's Elysian Echo for 1958. The Owner-Rider class, an innovation this year, was also won by Ann Wimberly's Thoroughbred mare, Elysian Echo.

Kentucky - Tennessee Regional Rally

The Middle Tennessee Pony Club, sire or grandsire of all the southeastern clubs, topped both "B" and "C" competitions at the Kentucky-Tennessee Regional Rally of the U. S. Pony Clubs, July 1-2, at La-Grange, Ky.

Ten teams representing all the 6 clubs of the two states except Chattanooga, enjoyed sporting competition and generous entertainment provided by the host club, the Blue Grass Pony Club, less than 1 year old and with several chapters spread over the Louisville area.

The Oldham County Fairgrounds furnished ample stabling and the site of all events except the cross-country phase. This took place on state owned adjoining property and consisted of about 2 miles of roads and trails and another 2 miles and cross-country without jumps replaced show jumping and the "endurance" phase.

This was the first Kentucky-Tennessee Rally. In 1956 there was no Kentucky competition and Tennessee met in Atlanta with Alabama and Georgia (and beat 'em). In 1957, the Alabama and Georgia teams came up to Nashville to take on one Kentucky (Central) and three Tennessee teams, Middle Tennessee and Chattanooga winning as in 1956.

"B" competition - 1. Middle Tennessee (B. Rasch, N. Anderson, P. Gordon, S. Anthony, S. Jordan, helper.) 2247.30 points; 2. West Tennessee (A. Newbern, S. Lutz, L. Anderson, S. Hooper, B. Stewart, helper.) 2218.50.
 "C" competition - 1. Middle Tennessee (J. Yearwood, L. Noel, G. Lee, M. Crabtree, M. V. Noel, helper.) 2226.50; 2. Central Kentucky (J. Dabney, R. Hagin, M. Wim, C. Becksted, W. Short, helper.) 2063.50; 3. Blue Grass (N. Lampton, P. Watkins, D. Lampton, 3rd, B. Lynn, J. Van-Cleave, helper.) 2040.50; 4. Keeneland (T. Ward, B. Bishop, J. Wheeler, J. Graves, T. Greathouse, helper.) 1838.
 "D" competition - 1. Keeneland (S. Bell, S. Thompson, S. Starks, K. Buster, V. Welch, helper.) 1438; 2. Blue Grass Blue (B. VanCleave, P. Wolpert, L. Towery, M. Cronan.) 1430; 3. Blue Grass Red (V. Smock, S. Croan, R. Cooper, M. Lampton.) 1136; 4. Central Kentucky (J. Allen, J. Dabney, J. Campbell, J. Niles, S. Stewart, helper.) 1108.

Junior Wranglers

Sizzling wheat-ripening summer heat didn't discourage the riders at the fifth annual Junior Wranglers open show. With over 18 jumps.

Participants were housed in motels and houses within about 4 miles from the grounds.

Mrs. John Donald Gordon, District Commissioner, the youthful Secretary, Nancy Lampton, and her father, Dinwiddie Lampton Jr., indefatigable foxhunter and polo player - and now Pony Club promoter, apparently did not lack support from friends and members' parents, for the event was ably staffed.

Gen. F. W. Boye of Warrenton, Va., was chief judge (dressage, stadium jumping, etc.), Howard Tilson was head stable judge. Howard J. Morris, Jr., Regional Supervisor of Alabama-Georgia, supplied Written Tests for "C" and "B" competition, while the entire "D" competition was borrowed from the West Coast Regional Rally held in early April. Canadian Pony Club Rally

Broadview

Both the "B" Team Trophy and the "C" Team Trophy were won by the Toronto and North York Hunt Branch of the Canadian Pony Club at the Eleventh Annual Inter-Branch Pony Club Rally held at Richmond, Ontario, near Ottawa on June 26 to 29th.

The "North Yorkers" hail from the Aurora area north of Toronto. Their team captain, Angus Pickford, is son of huntsman Fred Pickford. The Branch's representation consisted of Associate rider Veronica Beatty; B team of Ken Robson, Jack Wallace, John Cakebread, Jr., with Bill Hunt, helper; and C team of Gail Heath, Marcia Hoar and helper Susan McBrien. (Teams were permitted 3 riders, the best two scores to count, but Branches could not send more than 5 riders if entering both B and C teams.) Conditions reduced the number of representatives this year in order that more Branches or Clubs could be accommodated. There were ten.

The Handsome gold-coloured trophy for Associate individual competition was won by Penny Alexander of the Eglinton Hunt Branch, Toronto. Penny made the best combined score in the Associate Three-Day Event and also won the Conformation Jdging for Associates. Next most successful member of Eglinton was Patrick Wright who made the best Three-Day Event combined total among the C's.

Eglinton sent the full complement permitted - three individual Associates; a three-rider B team and a two-rider C team, plus helpers and team captain, Sarah Bladen. These all had to use the one single stall provided each Branch for a tack room, and the planning of space for the placement of tack and equipment in this small area, that still allowed for the utmost efficiency, was a masterful piece of brain work.

Although Eglinton's stable area gave the best impression among all Branches or Clubs, when the final marks were tallied, Eglinton was third for the Stable Management award but the scores were breathtakingly close. As Branches varied in the number of representatives, the average score was taken. The Ottawa Valley Branch won the much-coveted trophy with an average of 207.6 out of a possible 210! The very popular group from over the border - the Genesee Valley "B" team - was runner-up with an average of 206, while Eglinton's average was 205.8. In fourth place was the two-rider B team which came all the way from British Columbia on the Pacific Coast to represent the Cowichan Branch. They flew to Ottawa assisted by a travelling scholarship from the Canadian Pony Club Advisory, and were loaned horses by Ontario sportsmen.

Another very distant Branch was that of the Halifax Junior Bengal Lancers which brought a three-rider B team by rail some 1,000 miles from Nova Scotia on the Atlantic Coast. Halifax sent children last year with partial financial assistance from the Advisory Board but this year they came entirely on their own. Where last year, they were game but green, this year they were right in the swing of competition even though they did not often get near the top. Susan Oland had the second best performance in Stadium Jumping where three riders, Chas. Dillingham, Montreal, David Bowron, Cowichan, B.C., and Louise Thompson of the London Hunt all tied for first with clean rounds.

The Londoners got into the top placings frequently in all divisions, but their most brilliant success was in the Branch Display. This was not a scoring event for Rally totals but has a handsome challenge Trophy. London's reputation continues untarnished, for they have won this every year. This year they put on a very polished humorous version of "Lady Godiva". It had a build up, suspense, a marvellous pink Lady Godiva well camouflaged with yellow hair (who may have been Dee Hall-Holland for the steed was hers) and a dandy punch line - "Shamel You peeked." Runners up for the Trophy were the Halifax Junior Bengal Lancers attired in their colorful uniform who gave a very good exhibition of tent-pegging.

The Ancaster Branch (which incidentally, has accepted the invitation to be host for next year's Rally) had a very good all-round representation and yet is a small Branch. Associate rider Jane Holbrook was second in the Three-Day Event Combined total, having placed first in the cross-country and fourth in dressage and Stadium Jumping. Sheila McLeod, one of Ancaster's B's, won the cross-country for her division. Brian McColl and Malcolm MacGregor were among four tied with clean performances in the C Stadium Jumping, and Brian placed fourth in the Three-Day Event Combined score for C's.

The Southlands Club from Rhinebeck, New York, were represented at the Canadian Rally for the first time with a three-rider B team which got a fourth in dressage and two thirds in Stadium Jumping, while helper Dave Hopper was second in the hazardous unsaddling race. This called for B team helpers to ride a team horse to an unsaddling point and having off-saddled, remount bareback carrying the saddle to the finish line. The remounting with saddle to cope with was pretty tricky and some were hopelessly mounted on high horses they couldn't even get aboard with the assistance of a chair.

Polished and accomplished horsemanship, hard work, capably handled in stable management, etc., were of course the mainstays of the Rally, but the odd event such as the above, the extra curricular events like the Branch Display and the Captains' panel (a horse version of T.V.'s Front Page Challenge) added to the fun and helped break up the tension of serious competition.

The same Novice Dressage Test was used for all grades. The top B's made better scores than the Associates. Several B performances were really good and the top half of the B's were all only a point or two apart, after which there was a sharp drop. Some of the C's also were very good but, as might be expected, there was considerable variation in this grade.

The Cross-country Course was the stiffest yet provided at a Canadian Rally. Nearly all obstacles were built close to the maximum heights, were very solid and most impressive looking. None, however, presented any real problem, nor were there any with tricky problems of approach or landing except perhaps one which had a mound half-way across it on the take-off side. To jump off the mound made the jump small but the horse would have to stand back to make it so to take the other side seemed safer, if higher.

In walking the course myself (without a guide) I was impressed with the planning, the construction of obstacles and the imagination and thought in setting the route and flagging it with course markers. Some competitors, however, went off course or lost their way and so lost time. Surely, however, a course that presents a challenge to the rider and arouses his interest and initiative at the time of walking it will give him greater satisfaction to ride over whether he makes it or not, than an easy course that everyone is going to make.

There were in fact three courses for the three grades. All grades took the first four fences, then C's veered away on their own, B's and Associates had all the same fences, but did not take them in the same order, and three additional fences were given to Associates whose course was longer and presented more of a problem.

The Stadium Jumping course was the same for both senior grades and shortened a bit for C's. This was a good course requiring a manageable horse with good foresight on the part of the rider for it had a lot of changes of direction. Only one Associate cleared all, three B's had clear rounds, and four C's had clears.

Prize-giving was held after supper, then everyone went off on a hay-ride to celebrate.

Far Hills

Horse & Pony Show

In spite of continuous rain and deepening mud, some very fine performances were turned in at the Far Hills Horse and Pony Show held on the spacious grounds of the Fox Chase Stable. Two rings and the outside course were kept busy most of the day.

The ribbons were so well spread that hack-offs had to be held to determine one Championship and two Reserves. In the large pony division, three different horses placed first in the three classes and failed to win a ribbon that counted toward the Championship in any other class. Muffin Lord's Garnwennol placed champion with Connie Carden's Satin reserve over Lynn Allegaert's Weefoals.

In the Children's Hunter Division, three horses tied for reserve and the nod was given to Third Party, owned and ridden by Marie Kadel, after a hack-off with Carol Hofmann's The Kitten and Penny Coughlan's Sea Mist.

In the regular Working Hunter Division, Charles Wood's Stock Exchange and Penny Coughlan's Sea Mist were tied for reserve and again Penny lost out to Stock Exchange.

THE CHRONICLE

Carol Hofmann of Long Branch, a consistently good rider, won her third A. H. S. A. Medal and is now eligible for Madison Square Garden in November. E. K.

Country Polo

Ann Braun

The largest crowd ever to witness a game on three-year-old Leonard Field in Wallingford, Conn., turned out on a perfect Sunday, June 22, for a benefit double-header totaling ten chukkers of polo. Under deep blue sunny skies, with only a hint of fluffy clouds, families and friends of the players on all four teams, as well as several hundred people who were attracted by the newspaper publicity and large signs posted on two nearby highways, cheered and blew car horns madly for their favorites galloping gaily up and down the field.

The opening game was of the four-chukker blue-jean rubber-ball variety now known at least in Connecticut polo circles as "country polo". Since the game benefitted their newspaper's Fresh Air Fund, New Haven Register sports editor Charley Kellogg and sports writer Dan Wallace captained the opposing teams. Kellogg's Jeremy Blues had a 2-1 edge in the spring series going into the game, and Wallace's Three W's sought a tie to close the season. (According to Tom Fitzpatrick, Register suburban editor, who made his polo-announcing debut during the game, the "Three W's" secretly stands for "Wallace's Wistful Wanderers". And wistful they were, as the Wanderers went down swinging to a 2-0 final count.

Kellogg tallied the first - and winning - goal seconds after the opening throw-in, followed immediately by a screamer from fifty yards out by Brace Gilson, at back for the Blues. The remaining three chukkers, though lacking in scoring, lacked only that. The players for the most part come from the New Haven area, working there at quite a variety of jobs, including the newspaper, radio and TV, telephone company, construction, and personnel, and each of them seemed to have brought a "fan club" from home and office! The game's excitement was heightened by the uproar from so many wildly biased fans!

After an intermission, Charley Kellogg removed his helmet, donned a referee's whistle, and called to order the high-goal men for the second game. Frank Butterworth's Giant Valley Farm trio of localites faced a visiting New York A.C. team of six-goaler Bill Ylvisaker, Yale polo captain in 1948, Zenas Colt of Pittsfield, Mass., and Bill Whitehead of Syosset, L. I. The final score favored the home team 6-2, after six mad chukkers of polo that kept fans so fascinated that no one wanted to leave even at the game's end!

After a scoreless opening chukker, Giant Valley took the lead on two goals by young Butch Butterworth, playing probably his last game on home turf before an army tour of duty. He was high man for the afternoon with three goals, and turned in an excellent performance at the No. 1 position, getting off some very difficult shots. One of them, his first tally, came on a near-side backhand sliced from an impossibly sharp angle some twenty yards off to the side of the goal - this after carrying the ball most of the territory much of the time was well-evidenced by the number of times Ylvisaker found himself at the backline knock-in post after a Giant Valley near-miss. Actually, however, from a spectator point of view, the game was not nearly as lopsided as the score would indicate. The fans themselves left no doubt as to their enjoyment of the game with a rousing cheer at its conclusion.

He led the Big Red with 10 goals. Kneeling: Dr. Stephen Roberts '37, head coach; Frank Page, assistant coach; Peter K. Johnson '58 Law and Mark J. Geronimus '58 Vet, freshman coaches.

length of the field.

New York, favored in handicap totals by two goals, started out with a physical handicap and ended the game with two of them. Bill Ylvisaker played the entire game with a bandaged and still-bleeding left hand from a dog bite that morning. Then midway in the fifth chukker, Bill Whitehead's mount slipped on a nearside turn, and skidded for a few feet with Whitehead's left leg pinned under him. Bill remounted after a rest and played out the game, but spent the night in the hospital after X-rays disclosed a fractured ankle.

Although Giant Valley on paper had the lower total handicap, their advantage came also from the constant experience of playing together for five years. The fact that they kept the ball in New York

Names for Stakes

A problem of no little importance to race tracks is the naming of their Stakes races, the headline events of their program.

In selecting names for stakes, officials usually try to give them some geographical or historical connotation related to the track. For example, the Paul Revere Handicap would not fit anywhere except at Suffolk Downs in Boston. Nor would Barbara Frietchie, the lass who waved the flag, nor Fort McHenry, where the Star Spangled Banner was written, by apropos except in Maryland.

In California, San Francisco's Golden Gate plays a prominent part in the stakes program at Golden Gate Fields with the Golden Gate Handicap and Golden Gate Futurity, and Santa Anita has several stakes races named for the old Spanish missions. San Juan Capistrano, San Luis Rey, San Gabriel and San Pasqual are a few examples. Hollywood Park, hard by the world's film capital, programs the Cinema Handicap. It also borrowed a movie word in naming one of its filly stakes - The Starlet. Will Rogers, the late humorist and movie star, has also been honored and it is appropriate that Hollywood Park opens its season with The Premiere rather than an Inaugural.

At Hialeah Park the local flora is remembered with such stakes as the Royal Poinciana, Hibiscus, Jasmine, Royal Palm and Bougainvillea. The Everglades is also on the list.

Sports writers, too, have had races named in their memory. Arch Ward, former Chicago editor, is remembered at Washington Park; Grantland Rice, the dean of the writers, is honored at Sunshine Park; and Joe H. Palmer, the New York Herald-Tribune turf editor, is paid tribute by one of the New York tracks.

Famous horses are always a good name source. Exterminator, Equipose, Discovery, Citation, Colin, Salvator and Stymlie are but a few. However, Man o'War, considered by many to be the greatest of all, is conspicuous by his absence on the stakes list.

George Woolf, a jockey great, is remembered by Washington Park. Tom Roby, a steeplechase rider who was seriously injured, is honored annually by Delaware Park. Two racing secretaries, Joe McLennan and John B. Campbell, are remembered by Hialeah and Bowie respectively. Pimlico honors "Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons, the training octogenarian, with the Mr. Fitz Handicap.

Even national holidays like Thanksgiving, Christmas, New Year, Labor Day, and the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington, are on the roster.

Atlantic City honors the United Nations. Seven tracks remember the chief executive of their states with Governor's Handicaps and Stakes.

Practically every field has been covered in choosing names for stakes except one - the two-dollar bettor. Why not a Pari-Mutuel Handicap?

Letters To The Editor

on the first round and had four faults on the second. Hugh Wiley went clean on Nautical his first trip, but fell on the second and withdrew.

Lionel Dawson, London Daily Telegraph correspondent, said, "It was a far closer-run result than the gloomier critics prophesied after watching America's beautifully coordinated and schooled team of riders and horses' performances during the week.

"No doubt the 'long rein' quiet riding of our visitors has caused some heart-searching here. Mr. Steinkraus' final round on Ksar d'Esprit was a perfect model of this style.

Earlier Steinkraus rode the big grey gelding to a brilliant win in the Manifesto Stakes as he beat Piero D'Inzeo on His Excellency. George Morris was fifth in the event on Night Owl. Wiley was second in the Distaff Stakes aboard Nautical. In this event, Steinkraus was fourth on First Boy while Morris was fifth with Sinjon.

Frank Chapot, riding Sinbad, finished a close second behind D'Inzeo in the Metropolitan Stakes, a time class.

Both qualifying heats for the King George V Cup were won by U.S.E.T. riders, with Steinkraus winning the first on Ksar d'Esprit and Wiley taking the other on Nautical. Steinkraus also rode First Boy to eighth place in the heat won by Wiley. Wiley, in turn, rode Master William to second place in the heat behind Steinkraus.

In the Imperial Steinkraus finished third on First Boy as the event was won by Portugal's Cavaleiro, with D'Inzeo second.

These results, coupled with the exceptionally fine performance of the team at Aachen, can only be the source of tremendous satisfaction to those of us interested in the U.S.E.T. Certainly this current training trip to Europe is proving its worth as a means of giving both horses and riders the necessary experience in international competition.

The success of the team should, I feel, act as a spur to us in our efforts to support the U.S.E.T. in our fund raising drive. We are still a far cry from our goal.

Plastic-Roofed Stables

Because the annual horse show of the Department of Animal Husbandry of the State College of Washington has been growing by leaps and bounds, Gene Stark, Horse Specialist of the Department, decided to try a new type of horse barn, roofed with a black-white laminated plastic material furnished by the Bakelite Company.

Each barn is 26 feet in width and 88 feet in length, with a 9'6" alley through the center of each barn. One barn consists of 44 tie stalls, 4' deep and 4' in width. The other barn consists of 22 tie stalls of the same dimension and 11 box stalls 8' x 8' in dimension. Rafter length is approx. 14' and rafters extend flush to side. Rafters are 2" x 8" set 2'9" on center. 1" x 2" batts are used to attach plastic to rafters, ridgepole and eave edge. A simple drip-type eave will be installed.

As a safety precaution, with visiting show horses stabled in these barns as a rule, a chain device was installed at the rear of each tie stall. This chain is attached to one upright by an eye-bolt and to an eye-bolt on the other side by a heavy snap.

2' x 8' doors, made of 1/2" unsanded plywood, will be installed at the window openings, thereby solidly enclosing the sides of each barn. These will be hinged at the bottom with three hinges and fastened at the top edge to close.

Siding is of 6" rustic V-groove type. Mangers in tie stalls is of 6" shiplap with 2" x 4" tie bar at the top of each manger.

Dirt-clay floors will be put in level with lower edge of plywood partitions and stall fronts. Alleyways will be raised only slightly higher than stall floor elevations.

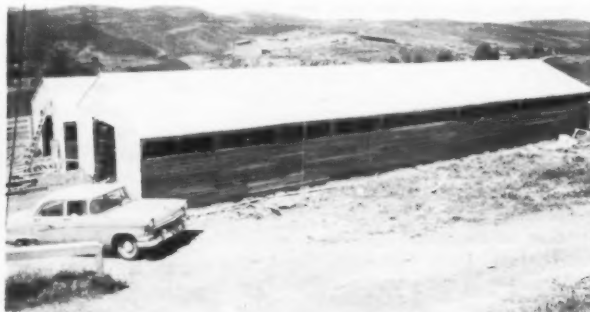

A lead-free white stain will be used to cover all unsanded plywood while an outside white paint will be used on other lumber.

Both barns to be used to stable show horses, experimental animals, hay, straw and machinery.

To date, and under severe heat and cooling conditions, and with heavy winds and rains, there has been no noticeable affect to the plastic roofing material. It looks extremely durable and the men who laid it have remarked about the durability and toughness of the plastic. There was no trouble encountered at the time the plastic was laid, - no ripping or tearing of the plastic, whatever.

Section of plastic roof showing battens placed on rafters. Also shows 2" x 8" ridge pole, and 2" x 6" rafters. 1" x 2" batts were used to fasten down plastic.

Plastic roof laid and fastened down. Eave edges have not been finished, as there is still a small eave-drip arrangement to be installed. (W.S.C. Photos, Ed Neill) in a jumping race, although he had previously had two in-the-money efforts on the grass.

Trainer Ray Woolfe, who saddled Dromond, was also the winning trainer on opening day, when he gave the leg up to Albert Foot on Montpelier's Benguala, a four-year-old full brother to Dromond. Run over a course that was slippery from rain earlier in the day, Benguala headed Eastcor going down the far side the last time and was ridden out to score by two-lengths. Eastcor was next best, followed by Mrs. June McKnight's *Darubini, which was making his initial start of the year, as well as his first effort in a steeplechase. Benguala ran the about two miles in 4:15 2/5.

Real Fancy Wins

The Galsac Hurdles on Saturday at a mile and three quarters drew a good field of nine runners, and it developed into an interesting contest. The eventual winner, Mrs. T. A. Randolph's Real Fancy received a well judged ride from Paddy Smithwick, who took the four-year-old to the front going down the far side, but then had to ride from there to the wire to hold off Fairfax, *Ballybrittas and Rotal, which finished closely behind him in that order and which were a direct threat all during the last quarter mile.

SON OF *ARCTIC PRINCE FOR AUSTRALIA

Following his third in the Eclipse Stakes, it is unlikely that the four year old Arctic Explorer will race again in England for he is due to go to stud in Australia.

The best horse to date sired by *Arctic Prince, Arctic Explorer won last year's Eclipse Stakes, in which he beat the subsequent King George VI Stakes winner Montaval, and four other races worth a total of approximately $42,000. He is to stand at the Stockwell Stud. P.T.C.

Monmouth Hurdles

daughter of Anderson Fowler, a director of Monmouth.

Be that as it may, trainer Walsh offered this bit of side bar information which in some degree may have benefited his prize jumper. Walsh's stock was stabled at the Ruff Acres Farm in Colts Neck, some 15 miles from Monmouth. At the farm there was an adjacent lake in which jockey Walsh would each day take *Cloonroughan to swim.

*Cloonroughan was considered good enough by his previous owners to be tried in the English Derby. But "enjoining" *Cloonroughan from his best efforts during his later season, according to Walsh's information, was the horse's roguish tendencies. It is now a matter of record that *Cloonroughan chose to run in the Midsummer.

*Romeo Scores

Moving with a flourish, Mary A. Rumsey's French-bred *Romeo sped by the favored Templeton Stable's Mandil approaching the sixth jump and continued on to a 10 length victory, his first over hurdles, as Monmouth Park began its final week of the between-the-flags sport.

*Romeo, restrained off the early pace of Mrs. Theodora A. Randolph's Keltic and Mandil by jockey James H. Walker, returned $21.80, $8.80 and $5.60 across the board after completing the "about" one and one-half miles course, in soft going, in 2.49 1/5.

Despite a victory in his last start on the flat at Delaware Park - first in the career of the 4-year-old gelding by Bozetto from Royal Union by Scottish Union - the players allowed *Romeo to go postward at slightly better than 9-1 in the field of 12 hurdlers, including two entries.

Perhaps profiting from the caliber of competition he had met in three appearances over hurdles at Belmont Park this spring, *Romeo proved much the best in his local debut. He showed a good dash of speed when called upon in the run along the backstretch and fenced flawlessly under pressure.

Mandil, ridden by James W. Murphy, 6-year-old gelding by *Nasrullah from Golden Apple by Eight Thirty, tired in the last furlong and lost the place to Mrs. Michael G. Walsh's Hindrance by a length. Hindrance, handled by Thomas M. Walsh, began his belated move with a quarter of a mile to go and was all out to gain secondary honors.

After clearing the ninth and final jump, Louis F. Aitken's Chancemoud, which had been closing well, suffered a bad landing and spilled jockey James G. Hobales to the turf. Hobales was uninjured.

With Mandil enjoying a four length advantage over the fourth finisher, the record of a hurdle favorite finishing either one, two or three, at the current lesser obstacle program was maintained.

United Hunts Purse

Youth dominated age and experience as Mrs. Henry Obre's Count Down "breezed" to a 12-length triumph in the United Hunts Purse Wednesday at Monmouth Park. Count Down, a 3-year-old Virginia-bred black gelding by Knockdown from Countess Play from Chance Play, breeding which seems more suited to the flat than hurdle racing, proved one of the more proficient lesser obstacle performers among those seen in action during the local meeting. In overwhelming seven older opponents, Count Down was even more impressive than in his last winning test in which he was an eight length victor. On that occasion, Count Down faced horses his age.

Somewhat overlooked in the wagering in favor of the Curly Joe-Prince Nam entry, which was held at 9-10, Count Down, capably ridden by Kenneth Field, paid $6.60, $5.00 and $2.60 across-the-board. The promising hurdle and steeplechase prospect carried 141 pounds over the "about" one and three quarter miles in 3.25 4/5. The course was firm.

Charkitt Stable's Good Sign and F. E. Dixon Jr.'s Lucky Trine vied for command for about a mile with the latter gaining slightly after clearing the fences and Good Sign spurting forward again in the run between the fences.

Until the seventh jump was approached, Count Down rated in fourth position by Field. At this point, Count Down passed Lucky Trine, Windmill Farms' Prince Nam and set sail for the leader, Good Sign. With eclat, Count Down attained supremacy and then simply jogged to his lengthly score.

Meanwhile, the game pacesetter fought off a challenge launched by Curly Joe in the shadow of the wire and clung on to a neck advantage. J. L. Bentley's Russ finished fourth.

Accepting the trophy in behalf of the owner was Michael Wettach, son of Mrs. Obre, from Monkton, Md. Making the presentation was Miss W. Helen Eden, assistant secretary of the United Hunts Racing Association.

There were about 250 members of the United Hunts present at a luncheon. Among the distinguished visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus R. Trout, of Devon, Pa., owners of *Chicago 2nd, and Capt. John L. Bentley, owner of the noted timber mare, Gillian, who made his first journey to Monmouth to view his Russ perform. Russ is a half-brother to the stakes-winning steeplechase horse, Errolford. Bentley has a farm at Orlean, Va.

THOROUGHBRED OWNERS

In an interview with columnist Joe Hirsch, Frank B. Warton, secretary of the recently formed Thoroughbred Owners' Association, pointed out the necessity for establishing uniform freight rates on the shipment of horses; for equalizing compensation and liability rates on track employees; for securing better rates for the insurance of horses; and for developing more apprentice riders.

*Princequillo retired to stud in 1945 at Claiborne with a record of 12 victories and $96,550 in 33 starts over three seasons.

Stud Record

To the end of 1957 he had gotten at least two stakes winners in every crop to race except his first and fourth, for a total of 27, including 10 earners of $100,000 or more.

In his second group of foals were the three-year-old champions of 1950 on both sides of the Atlantic: Prince Simon in England, and the $422,140 earner Hill Prince in this country.

From the Claiborne stallion's third crop came the crack staying filly How, earner of $157,057; and Mandingo, who accumulated $148,152 even though his only stakes triumph was the 2 1/16 mile Daingerfield Handicap.

There followed a long drought of outstanding performers until *Princequillo's seventh group of foals reached the races. It included the brilliant Misty Morn, earner of $212,575; and the 1957 handicap champion Dedicate, who collected $529,475 and was named "Horse of the Year" by the Thoroughbred Racing Associations.

From the refugee's eighth crop emerged the Garden State Stakes winner Prince John, earner of $212,818; the excellent handicapper Third Brother (Hill Prince's full brother), who had collected $248,550 to the end of 1957; the middle-distance specialist Kingmaker, whose bank balance reached $189,275 last season; and the fine filly Dotted Line, who had garnered $144,900 by the close of last year.

Stars of *Princequillo's ninth group of foals has been Round Table, named three-year-old champion and "Horse of the Year" last year by The Thoroughbred Record. His earnings reached $769,964 with decisions in the San Fernando Stakes and Santa Anita Maturity during January, 1958.

Other stakes winners by *Princequillo have included Royal Castle, Simms, Adams Off Ox, Prince Dare, Prince Regent, Cherokee Rose, Quillo Maid, Riverina, Prince Hill, All View, Colonel Mack, Our Prince, Happy Princess, Dark Armour, Trip Lightly, Misty Flight and Sequoia.

Will He Breed On?

*Princequillo seems well on the way to establishing a lasting male line. Hill Prince is already a prominent sire at Claiborne, with the full sisters Levee and Bayou as his best representatives in his first three crops to race. Prince Simon got the classy filly Tremor among his few foals at Claiborne before he was short-sightedly discarded as a sire. Dedicate entered stud at Claiborne this spring, and Round Table will join him there when his racing career is ended.

Also in Kentucky, Prince John will have his first foals arriving this spring. The first crop by Prince Dare, who holds court in Maryland, included winners last year. Other worthy entire sons of *Princequillo, notable Third Brother, will also be retiring to stud within the next few years.

The 1957 leading sire is likewise beginning to appear in the ranks of broodmare sires. How's daughter Pocahontas won last year's Schuylerville Stakes. Misty Morn's first foal is due this spring. Cherokee Rose's initial offspring should reach the races this season. Quillo Maid and Riverina have been retired from racing long enough to have current yearlings. And other worthy daughters of *Princequillo, especially Dotted Line, will join them in the breeding barn during the next few seasons.

Thus, like so many other war refugees in their own particular lines of endeavor, *Princequillo has made an important and apparently lasting contribution to his adopted country.

SARATOGA PARADE HORSE

Saratoga Springs became a one-horse town on July 18 - and loved every minute of it.

The "one horse" involved was Lord Mike, a two-year-old colt, owned by the Four-M Farms and trained by Sol Ruchick, which was welcomed to Saratoga as the first Thoroughbred to arrive in town for the 1958 Saratoga race meeting, which began Thursday, July 31. Lord Mike, who has started but once in his career, and made that a winning effort at Jamaica, was the center of attraction in a large parade which drew thousands from the surrounding area to line the streets of Saratoga. Bands, floats, marching groups, civic, fraternal and other organizations, all fell in line to salute Saratoga's first Thoroughbred visitor of the season, and Lord Mike took it all quite calmly, as he drew cheers from the throngs who watched him pass by in his private van.

Last year, Saratoga turned out to welcome Actinic, which showed his appreciation by winning his two starts at the Spa. The hope among Saratogians and racing fans from other parts of the area who were present to welcome Lord Mike is that he'll continue his winning ways at the track.

THE CHRONICLE

ABOUT STEEPLECHASING

Monmouth Park's successful hurdle season came to a conclusion Thursday with the running of the $22,000 Midsummer Hurdle Handicap. Mrs. Michael G. Walsh's *Cloonroughan, through his victory in this richest event of its kind, became the "champion" of the hurdle season here with earnings of $15,800 in his two starts.

Mrs. Walsh was the top money-winner among the numerous stables which participated in the 15 hurdle races offered. Her outfit won $16,400 to be followed by Sanford Stud Farm with $11,600, F. Eugene Dixon, Jr. with $7,200, Mrs. G. H. Bostwick with $5,675 and Mrs. Henry Obre with $5,350.

Sanford Stud Farm won the most races - three.

A (Paddy) Smithwick, national leader of steeplechase riders for the last two seasons, easily topped the riders in action with 5 winners. John L. Cotter, Jr., James H. Walker and Kenneth A. Field each won two races while single winners included J. R. Glass, Michael Fogarty, Thomas M. Walsh and Bill Hartack.

D. M. Smithwick was the top trainer of the season, with five winners saddled. Hollie Hughes was runnerup with three while G. H. Bostwick and J. Bosley, 3d, had two each, J. S. Nash, C. V. B. Cushman, Jr. and M. G. Walsh were the other winning trainers.

All told there were 135 entries in the steeplechase events and eight favorites won for a winning mark of 53.3%. A new record for wagering on a hurdle race was set on the 1958 Midsummer, when $176,303 went through the tote to eclipse the mark of $167,973 set on the same race in 1956.

Thirty-two different owners shared in the purse distribution, indicating steadily increasing interest in this phase of the sport.

Condition Books

One of the most prolific group of authors are the racing secretaries at the various race tracks in this country. Although their books never reach the best-seller lists, they are avidly read by horsemen everywhere.

Basically, the job of writing the book is the same, whether it be Frank E. (Jimmy) Kilroe of the New York tracks and Santa Anita, Charles McLennan of Hialeah and Laurel, Fred Burton of the Chicago tracks and Keeneland, Ty Shea of Garden State and Narragansett, Gil Haus of Delaware, Charles Town, Waterford and Randall or Harvey Foster of Rillito, La Mesa and Albuquerque.

To the layman, these books would fall in the mystery class. To a horseman, however, the book, known to the trade as the condition book, is the "bible" of the profession. From it a trainer learns what races fit the particular horses in his stable.

The condition book usually covers a ten-day racing period. In it are the schedule of races, day by day, listing the class of horses eligible for a particular event.

Must Know His Material

In writing these books, the racing secretary must first be sure of the material on hand. He must know how many horses he can draw on for this races. He then breaks this group down in the various classifications, maiden, claiming, allowances and stakes. Each of these classes, in turn, is broken down again. The maidens fall into age and sex groups; claimers by the valuation determined by the owners; allowance events are governed either by earnings or races won; and stakes include the higher class horses which are named in advance for races and in which assigned weights are usually carried.

These classifications are fundamentally based on a horse's ability and this is quickly determined once it starts racing. A horse makes his debut as a two-year-old in a maiden race. If he wins his owner moves him into the allowance class. If he loses, his owner may decide to put him in a claiming race at a stated price. This means that any owner who has started a horse at the meeting can claim the horse by depositing the stated price 15 minutes before the running of the event.

The majority of races fall in the claiming classification, ranging as high as $20,000 in some cases to as low as $1,000 at small tracks. The claiming price is the value of the horse as estimated by his owner. Races are written at a stipulated price which in effect grades the entries and prevents an owner from putting a more valuable horse in a cheap race in order to win a quick purse.

Allowance races are usually made up of horses which already have won. Conditions, however, vary greatly in this class. Working from an assigned weight, concessions are given those who have not won as many races as some of the contestants, and to those whose earnings are less.

The Headline Events

Stakes, the headline events, fall in several classes but, basically, all require subscription fees and close well in advance of their running. To these fees the track adds amounts ranging up to the $125,000 "Added money" of the Kentucky Derby. Any owner can nominate for a stakes if his horse is eligible under the age or sex conditions. Probably the best known of the stakes are the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont, restricted to three-year-olds and at equal weights of 126 pounds. Handicaps, a division of stakes, are usually for older horses and entrants carry weights assigned by the racing secretary, based on his evaluation of the field, the best horse, in his opinion, being assigned the most weight.

In order to write a book equitable for all, the racing secretary must constantly be aware of the condition of the horses available. He keeps track of injuries and the various sicknesses which plague the Thoroughbred. He must plan his races 10 days to two weeks in advance so that the horsemen, in turn, may plan programs in advance for their horses. His failure to do this would result in small and uninteresting fields.

In addition, he must be aware of the horses campaigning in areas other than his own in the event that he might attract them by writing a particular race in which they would fit.

These men are eminently qualified for their positions and each year the Thoroughbred Racing Associations calls on board of selectors, composed of racing secretaries of its member tracks to choose the champions of the various divisions.

PALMER PURCHASE

The Irish - trained three year old Tharp, whom many consider to be the best animal of his generation in Britain, for he has victories to his credit over the Derby winner Hard Ridden, the Irish Derby victor Sindor and Paddy's Point who was second in both races, has recently been obtained on behalf of American Carleton H. Palmer by Vincent O'Brien.

Vincent O'Brien sent over Even Money this year to win the Ascot Vase for Mr. Palmer. Tharp is an unfashionably bred horse, being by Limekiln out of Mother Rectress, by His Reverence. P. T.-C.

COLONEL HASTINGS

Lt. - Col. R. H. W. S. Hastings, D.S.O., O.B.E., M.C., a Director of the British Bloodstock Agency, of London, is coming over from England to attend the Fasig-Tipton Company's Yearling Sales at Saratoga from August 11th through August 15th.

LAKE OF TWO MOUNTAINS HUNT DISPLAY

Spectators at Blue Bonnets Raceway, Montreal, had a full program on Sunday July 20th, when in addition to ten scheduled races, the Lake of Two Mountains Hunt Club put on a display. Joint Master H. J. O'Connell drove his coach and team of four greys around the track, followed by hounds and hunt staff. Members of the hunt later staged two races over brush fences. In the Ladies Race Holly Ruel, riding Mike Tighe's Stevie W., finished very fast to beat pacemaker Maestro by two lengths, and in the Gentlemen's Race Alan White on Flying Porter just got the better of Captain Adam, riding his own horse, Tabu, in a hard fought finish.

PONKEY

The Cross Country and Steeplechase phases of the Three Day Event at South Woodstock, Vermont, in connection with the three week Combined Training Center, sponsored by the Green Mountain Horse Association and directed by H. Stewart Treviranus, Technical Director for Combined Training to the U. S. Equestrian Team, contained a series of obstacles many of which appeared most formidable to the riders who walked the course ahead of time. An unplanned obstacle which actually gave more trouble, however, was a black mule with white markings, by a Sicilian jack out of a Shetland pony mare, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Scott Garceau, whose farm lies on either side of the route designated for the second Roads and Trails phase. This minute animal, who is actually smaller than several of the Newfoundland dogs raised by the Garceaus, was of such prehistoric appearance that he struck terror to the hearts of many of the horses, which were induced to pass it only after considerable remonstrance and persuasion on the part of their riders. Nicknamed "The Ponkey", it added a rather new note to this sporting event.

VIRGINIA HOUND SHOW

The 12th Annual Show of the Virginia Foxhound Club will be held at Montpelier, the estate of Mrs. Marion duPont Scott, Orange County, Virginia, on Saturday, August 23rd. Entries close Monday, August 4th. In addition to the open classes there will be special classes for packs which reported less than 20 couple of entered hounds in The Chronicle Hunt Roster for 1957.

P.J.H.S.A.

New officers of the Central Pennsylvania Junior Horse Show Association recently were elected as follows:

R. W. Archbald, York, president; Richard H. Moen, Lancaster, vice president; Sherman Wise, Harrisburg; Mrs. Francis E. Armstrong, Mechanicsburg, secretary-treasurer.

The Association comprises six junior riding clubs which hold a circuit of shows annually. Points are awarded in certain classes which lead to annual championships awarded during the winter. While the senior officers serve as advisers, the juniors do most of the work themselves in putting on the shows. The clubs include Lancaster, York, Quentin, Columbia, Chambersburg, and Beaufort Junior club, Harrisburg.

THE CHRONICLE Chronicle Cover

St. Patrick won the Doncaster St. Leger in a year not particularly noted for the fame of its colts. He was a chestnut colt, bred in 1817 by Sir E. Smith, in whose colors he raced, and was a son of Walton from a mare foaled in 1810 by Dick Andrews: grandam by Trumpator. The odds were 7 to 1 against him and, ridden by J. Johnson, he defeated Copeland, Locksley and a good field. He won four races in all, among them the Old Stakes at Catterick.

HEX JUMPS

True to the "Pennsylvania Dutch" tradition, the Friendly Horseman's Club of Denver, Pa., put up a chicken coop jump at its recent show which had "hex" signs on one side, and a black-and-white checkerboard on the other. The show is held on the farm of Ralph S. Kurtz, halfway between Denver and the hamlet of Schoenack, which means "beautiful corner." In the heart of the Pennsylvania Dutch country it is indeed a beautiful spot, and rich "Deitch" accents were plentiful on show day.

1331 POUNDS

The usually impeccable New York TIMES which never makes an error really went off base in its write up on Bold Ruler's win in the Monmouth Handicap.

In one of the sub headlines referring to the fact that Bold Ruler won under 134 pounds, the highest ever carried by a winner, reference was made to the load carried by Helioscope when he beat High Gun in this same event in 1955. According to the TIMES, he carried 1331 pounds which is quite a load even for one of the high quality of Helioscope. And he beat High Gun with the latter carrying only 135, more than half a ton less.

Further along in the article, they refer to Bold Ruler's total earnings to date of $693,432 except they don't call Mrs. Phipps' colt Bold Ruler. They call him "Gold Ruler." I guess the writer got carried away and let all that money go to his head.

Still further down in the same article, Mr. Fitzsimmons is quoted as saying his big "warry" is whether the horse gets back all right after a big race. If I had the likes of Nashua and Bold Ruler in my care, I think I'd "Warry" if they got back all right too. Maybe "warrying" is a more productive way of being nervous about something than just plain worrying.

FRED PICKFORD

Fred Pickford, the brilliant huntsman of the Toronto and North York Hunt, Beverly Farm, Aurora, Ontario, Canada, recently underwent an operation for varicose veins which was performed by the chief surgeon of the Toronto General Hospital. It was apparently successful in every way.

THE DIXONS

Pat and Ellen Dixon, Annville, Pa., have gone into business for themselves, and have opened a Training Center at the Quentin, Pa., Riding Club. Pat was rider, trainer and stable-manager for Millarden Farms for 12 years, during which time he won many of the most important trophies in the nation, and hundreds of ribbons.

The Dixons have both horses and ponies, and plan to train and sell them, as well as giving lessons to children from three years of age up. One of Dixon's horses is the four-year-old Call Royal, whose dam is a sister of famous All Affair, now 25 years old, one of the most sensational ribbon winners in recent horse show history, until his retirement at the age of 19.

NORMAN HAYMAKER

Norman Haymaker, who turned out many good hunters and show horses for the late Dr. L. M. Allen of Clifton Farm, Berryville, Va., recently climaxed his equally successful career as a trainer of race horses when he won the Arlington Classic with Mrs. S. Helene Sadacca's A Dragon Killer (Roman Sandal-Lutza, by Market Wise), who paid $36.20 and earned $102,825.

G. RAY BRYSON

G. Ray Bryson, for many years the principal owner and general manager of the Bel Air, Md., Racetrack, recently died at the age of 72 at his Elray Farm, Kingsville, Md., where he maintained a large band of broodmares and the stallions High Lea, Equibit and Free France.

LOLLYPOP AND TIGER

Dale Shaffer, who formerly operated the successful Thoroughbred nursery, Coldstream Farm, Lexington, Ky., and now heads the Detroit Race Course, has two children, Charles, 15, and Candace, 13, who are enthusiastic competitors in the show ring. As children they both owned race horses and Charley (whose nickname is Tiger) sported silks with a tiger as an emblem. His younger sister, nicknamed Candy, had a chocolate lollypop as her insignia.

KNIGHT TESTIMONIAL

Henry H. Knight of Lexington, Ky., will be the honor guest at the annual testimonial dinner of the Thoroughbred Club of America. For a number of years "Knight's Night" at the Fasig-Tipton Company's Saratoga Summer Sales was a great feature. Mr. Knight has also made breeding history by his purchase and resale of entire studs and stud farms.

H. M. WARNER

Harry M. Warner, pioneer film producer, and owner of Stepfather, Honeys Alibi, Honeymoon and other good horses, recently died in Los Angeles at the age of 76.

STRASSBURGER'S TRAINER

George Bridgland, who severed his connections last autumn with the American owner and breeder, Ralph Beaver Strassburger, who maintains a stud farm in Normandy, France, is once more conditioning the Strassburger horses.

ARGENTINE EMBARGO

Because Venezuela recently put an embargo on Argentine horses on the basis of an alleged outbreak of sleeping sickness, it will be impossible to ship the crack Argentine mare Carlinga to this country, which Arnold Hanger had contracted to buy through his trainer Horatio Luro.
